

Hi Everybody!

October 4, 2013

3PM

We've had our first full weeks of school, and children are really settling in nicely. At this point in the year, we have the opportunity to sit down together at our first set of Parent Teacher Conferences. This is just a short time (20 minutes) when we can sit together and talk over how things are going. This is really intended as a dialogue, not any sort of 'report.' We will talk about how your child's adjustment has gone at school, and hope you will share with us how things are going from your perspective.

The dates for our Conferences are going to be:

Friday, October 18, Thursday, October 24, and Wednesday, October 30. They are all held in the afternoons, and on the 24th and 30th, this means there is no school for children that day.

Please phone or email the office to set up your time. Isaac will have our schedule and will let you know what times are available. If you have any problem with this, please let us know.

Since the conferences are only twenty minutes, it will be important for us all to stay on time. Please try to arrive at your scheduled time, and ring the bell. Someone from the office will let you in. When it's your turn, please knock on the classroom door to let us know you're here. We'll do our best to stay on time, too, but notifying us you've arrived could help us finish up if we're still talking to the person ahead of you.

We also ask that you don't bring your child, or other children, so that we can speak freely.

We're looking forward to having the chance to speak with all of you!

Thanks,
Melinda, Anita and Sarah
